THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO. | ATLANTA, GEORGIA, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1869. | VOLUME II---NUMBER 110

EVENING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, OCTOBER 25.

COAL.—Mr. Parsons has sent us some of his coal from the mines beyond Knoxville. It is a fine coal, and we like it better than any we have tried. It catches easily, burns long and warmly, and is very clean. We can cheerfully recommend it.

☞See Fourth Page.

☞ BLACKWOOD, for October, is on our table. The contents are: "A Year and a Day;" "Juventus Mundi;" "The War in Paraguay;" "Cornelius O'Dowd;" "A Great Whig Journalist;" "Charles Reade's Novels;" "The Old Monk in the Belfry."

This sterling old Magaaine has still some flashes of its ancient fire, and this number will wile away an hour agreeably for any one.

Leonard, Scott & Co., 140 Fulton street, N. Y., are the American Publishers.

☞Reading matter on every page.

THE GALAXY.—Phillips & Crew have sent us the November number of the Galaxy, published by Sheldon & Co., of New York. It is a sparkling number. Charles Reade has an installment of one of his readable novels—"Put Yourself In His Place." "Imperialism in America," gives a graphic account of the rise and fall of The Imperialist, that organ of Empire. Richard Grant White, in "The Play of the Period," tells us that Lydia Thompson and her beautiful blondes, in their leg-dramas, are more moral exhibitions than the Formosa of Bourcicault; and he discusses the dramatic tastes of the period in a racy style. Anthony Trollope gives a most amusing little experience in the "Editor's Tale."

The number is a brilliant one and every article lively and interesting.

Georgia News.

A company of U. S. soldiers passed down the road to Florida.—Americus Courier.

A cow-hilding affair at Thunderbolt. No names given.—Savannah News.

Mr. John H. Shields, gin house burned.—Americus Republican.

Property in Elberton going up.—Elberton Gazette.

Wm. R. Crisson has been appointed Sub-Treasurer of the Yahoola Company.—Dahlonega Signal.

An intoxicated negress run over and killed on Atlantic and Gulf Railroad about 15½ station.—Savannah News.

Mr. H. Du Bignon, on Jekyl Island, lost his cotton and corn houses by fire. Losses several thousand dollars.—Brunswick Appeal.

The Rome Courier calls attention to our giving the wrong credit for Hag's anecdote to the Columbus Sun. We beg pardon. The matter occurred in the editor's absence. We try to be very careful in such matters, and cheerfully rectify mistakes.

Cotton receipts for the week 2,771 bales. Price 23¾. Dead negro found—supposed starved. George, a son of W. G. Woodruff, dead. Mr. Turrentine said, in St. Paul's Church, that he preached 35 years to Indians here, and could get 1,500 to hear him at any time. Now, it is difficult to draw 100 white persons.—Columbus Enquirer.

On Friday night two young ladies were going to Church. A negro slipped up, pulled a shawl off of the back of one and escaped with it. A new German cooking house is to be established in Savannah. Middling cotton worth 25 cents. Complaints of Post-office.—Savannah Republican.

BROWNLOW AND BUTLER.—The following stanza was found in a bolt of goods received from New York, by a merchant in this city, a few days ago:

"The time may come when all is well,
When peace in beauty reigns;
When Brownlow seeks a home in hell,
And Butler writhes in chains?"

—Savannah Republican.

Another body of Northern men looking for land. Hon. N. G. Foster dead, Mr. Godley Campbell, son of Dr. Campbell, of Morgan county, and a student at Emory College, while trying to get on the train in motion, at Covington, fell, and the car wheel crushed his left foot off, and mashed the fingers of his left hand.—Madison Examiner.

A young lady, a few evenings since, loaned to a gentleman visitor that her thimble was most worn out. The next day she received a new thimble, with the following:

"I send a thimble, for fingers nimble,
Which I hope will fit when you try it:
It will last you long, if it's half as strong
As the hint which you gave me to buy it."

—Savannah Advertiser.

FACTS OF THE CONVENTION.—A negro waiter who has for a long time held a good position in a large establishment in Macon took his employer one side, and submitted a new scale of prices, stating that if he did not receive the price he demanded, he would leave. "Good as wheat," was the only response, and in less than an hour the place was offered to and accepted by a white man, who was glad to take the position.—Sav. Advertiser.

Andy.

The intelligence came last week, that Andy Johnson was defeated by 4 votes.

He made a gallant fight. Probably no local event of the day has caused more general interest. It shows that Andy is such a power—that he is feared by the Radicals, that he has some warm admirers, that many think his day of usefulness is not over. We had hoped for his success, not that we think Andy has been faultless, but because we believed him an able and honest foe to Radicalism. The secret of his defeat was a plot formed by the weaker candidates. They double-teamed on him. The Nashville Banner thus speaks of the fight:

WHERE IT WAS CONCOCTED.

Our ubiquitous reporters ascertained, between the close of the last ballot of Tuesday and nightfall, that the opposition were bent on a concentration upon some one of the candidates mentioned, and also discovered the trail of an improvised rendezvous at No. 3, under the hospitable roof of the venerable Battle, of the City Hotel—immemorial, the headquarters of the Cabal in the old days of Whig successes and defeats. This chamber was packed with members of the General Assembly, several eminent gentlemen, hitherto mentioned in connection with the Senatorial question, and many of the ablest, oldest, and most prominent and influential citizens from all parts of the State. Though the various nominees and favorites, with patriotic oblivion of self, pledged themselves to agree upon any gentleman certain of success, and disclaimed all personal ambition or desire in the matter of selection, it was some time before it could be agreed upon who was most available in point of strength from the other side and in consolidating all the elements of opposition. Some of the neatest and most eloquent little speeches our reporter ever heard, together with the profoundest logic and most practical suggestions, were offered from various persons present. There was a generous emulation as to who should contribute most toward the selection of the most valuable and satisfactory nominee. Though a majority present were the friends of Hon. Emerson Etheridge, that gentleman and his tried and faithful and unswerving adherents unanimously yielded their own wishes in the premises to make victory certain, and secured perfect harmony and ultimate success. The best feeling prevailed, and all parted for the evening full of hope for the decisive struggle.

Andy had against him the ultra-rebel element, that he had fought during the war, and the ultra-Radical element whose enmity he has gained by fighting Reconstruction so fiercely. These elements united and defeated him.

The Banner tells us of the effect of the defeat:

At last came the announcement of the vote—Henry Cooper 55, Andrew Johnson 51—and then there burst forth such a shout of exultation as never before shook the walls of our noble capitol. One of the audience, utterly unable to control his enthusiasm, launched his hat from the gallery into the center of the hall.

But an hour or so after his election, United States Senator Cooper received a dispatch dated from Wall street, New York, congratulating not him, but Tennessee, upon the result.

It has become the fashion to predict the political death of a man because he gets soundly whipped. It sometimes does happen. But we question the rule. And we shall certainly be much surprised if a man of Andy's indomitable vitality, lively ambition, varied experience and big abilities, will stay permanently shelved by a little defeat. His pluck is too deep. It is bosh to talk of burying Andy, unless he is content to be tombed.

The Union and American makes the following good point on the Radicals who voted for Judge Cooper:

The Radicals made a good point on their party yesterday, by electing to the United States Senate the Judge who decided their State Government, Legislature and its franchise law, judiciary and all, bogus.

STATE ROAD MATTERS.

Is the State Road Insolvent?

KINGSTON, October 15 1866.

Mr. Editor: If the above inquiry, which, while I write, is resounding from Atlanta to Chattanooga, can be truthfully answered in the negative, then why, in the name of justice, humanity, and the State's honor, are there so many poor, hard-working men to-day starving or begging for lack of the pittance due them for labor and timber furnished said Road?

Yesterday, according to usage and custom immemorial, was the regular pay day for the various outside employees of the Western and Atlantic Railroad. At every station along the route of the pay trains were assembled crowds of eager, anxious-looking men, awaiting with almost breathless anxiety the approach of the pay train. Formerly, it was a merry sight to witness the jolly, cheerful faces of the various groups of "wood-cutters," "track-hands," and "tie-men," as, confident of receiving the reward of their toil for the past month, they joyfully gathered around the "pay car."

But yesterday, no such pleasant sight met the view, as the long-expected "pay train" came puffing up to our station. Fearfully, almost despairingly, we drew near the pay car—despairingly, for already had we been twice cruelly disappointed. This was the third "pay day," since we had exhausted our means in furnishing the wood and ties for which, to-day, we came a third time to beg our hard-earned pay. Most of us had stretched our credit to its utmost tension for the provisions consumed while earning the money now due us three months.

The merchants, whose kind indulgence had been so liberally extended us, could no longer supply us without the cash we expected to receive from this "pay-train." Some of us, had employed others, poorer, even than ourselves, to assist us in getting wood and timber for the road—our word was out to them; they depended on us to pay them their hard-earned dues. We felt that upon the answer to the anxious enquiry, we were about to address to the paymaster—"money" depended the weal or woe of hundreds of poor men, and helpless women and children. No wonder, then, that with the weight of such responsibilities resting upon the minds of most of us—the bearer of hope's cheerful rays was absent from our faces, as we approached for the third time to learn our fate. And when, for the third time, came the brief, cheerless response, "no money to-day," words can not describe the deep feeling of despair mingled with honest indignation, with which we turned away from the now hateful train!

By the way, sir, it was to us laborers, I think, His Excellency (!) especially appealed, when running for the office he now so well—disgraces. His memory is shorter than ours will prove, if I be not mistaken. Though, of course, it is little to cates what we may remember or forget. He knows, full well, there will never be another chance for him to be manipulated ("sharp and quick") into his present exalted position; hence, he "makes hay while the sun shines," with a vengeance.

Already, he may read, plainly written on the wall of the public mind, his inevitable fate—"mene, mene, tekel uphorsin."

WOOD-CUTTER.

MOUNTAINTOWN P. O. Oct. 23, 1869.

Col. I. W. Avery, Editor Constitution:—Dear Sir: How are matters standing with reference to the Western and Atlantic Railroad? Has Col. Hulbert resigned? Will he be discharged? Who will be his probable successor? These are vital questions, not only to the Republican party, but the whole people of Georgia; and they should be informed how the matter stands. The Republicans of this section are bitterly opposed to the removal of Col Hulbert. They believe his removal will be a great calamity, not only to the success of the Republican party, but to the interests of the State of Georg a. What are the charges against him? Did he not use his undivided influence to elect the entire Republican ticket in Georgia? Did he not manage the Bureau of Registration in the interest of his party? Did he not manage it with so much skill and tact as to win for himself the title of "Sharp and Quick;" and secured the election of Governor Bullock? Has he not supplied the road with Radicals, as far as practicable? Why, then, if he has managed this great interest with ability, should there be a change? The Republicans of this section do not believe there exists such a necessity; neither do they believe that Gov. B. will consent to such a change. They believe that Col. Hulbert has managed this great work of the State with skill and ability, and that the policy inaugurated by him with reference to this interest of the people, will tell with wonderful effect up its future. While he has steadily paid to the State Treasury the sum of $25,000 per month, he has laid the foundation for untold millions in the future.

He conceived the idea of making the Road something more than a mere political machine to subserve the interest of Party as has been the case in years gone by, but of making it the motive power of developing our inexhaustible mineral resources and placing Georgia upon the high road to prosperity. Coming generations will applaud this liberal and wise policy and venerate the wisdom of the mind that conceived it. Col. H. has published to the world our riches in material wealth, invited immigration, hitherto unknown in the history of our State, and if left untrammeled will bring about an era of prosperity for the Western and Atlantic Railroad, heretofore not dreamed of. Then why talk about a change? Who are the malcontents? Has not Hulbert done well for the taxpayers of Georgia? he has demonstrated that the high salaries paid officials of the Road and the vast amount of super numeraries retained, were extravagances the people of Georgia could well afford to dispense with, and while the business of the line has steadily increased, smaller salaries have been paid, fewer employees has done the work, and as I believe, conceied equally as well.

Mr. Editor, this question of a change of Superintendents is fraught, as we conceive, with great danger to the people of Georgia. And if there is to be a fight over it, we want to know it, for we intend to "take a hand," and handle the matter with gloves off. Please give us the extent of your information on the subject. Yours etc., RAD.

MASSACHUSETTS LETTER.

Mount Auburn Cemetery.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 16, 1869.

Editor Constitution: A regular winter rain we have been having since yesterday afternoon. It and some other causes conspire to make me feel very little like letter writing to-day. I would not do so had I any other time at my disposal. But as the Greek soul say, "Most terrible is this force, necessity." The streets are covered with water. I have almost come to the conclusion, that it will be good policy to charter a boat in order to navigate from place to place. At any rate, it would be an act of exceedingly great prudence to do so. But I will leave the weather with the remark that it is cold without, and cold within, for my coal fire is indeed a cold one.

Since I wroto to you last I, have been to that earthly paradise Mount Auburn Cemetery! Mount Auburn, the gates of the tomb! The entrance to immortality. It is indeed the most lovely spot I have ever seen. I know of no place better calculated to inspire holy thoughts than this. No place more fitted to cause one to forget the trials and the bitter disappointments of life than this! No place more suited to awaken a desire for death than this.

The cemetery is situated out Brattle street, about one mile and a half from Harvard square, from which the people here reckon distances, as we Atlantese do from the car shed. Street cars, those Northern luxuries —— run to and from it, from the square, every fifteen minutes. So there is no difficulty in approaching it. Visitors are allowed to enter every day of the week, without a passport except Sunday. This regulation is absolutely essential, or it would be filled on that day with certain objectionable classes. The grounds are beautifully laid off. To quote Rogers—they are "rich in fountains and statuary." Walks run through every part. Rare and beautiful trees, shrubs and flowers are planted here, and many beautiful vaults and monuments adorn it.

Never before in any place have I seen more beautiful samples of the sculptor's art than are collected here. As it is very easy indeed to criticise, or rather to find fault, it being very hard to criticise properly—I will indulge in it, and say, I think there is most too much heathen art. Urns with mantles thrown over them, and Egyptian symbols, etc., are very numerous. There are also many monuments to which this fault cannot be found. One of the most beautiful I saw, was a statute representing Faith, Hope and Charity. Another beautiful thought was represented by a harp with some of its chords broken. Another was a simple cross, wreathed with flowers. One of the most perfect pieces there is a bronze statue of one of our former Presidents of Harvard University, President Bowditch. It is a bronze statue of life size. Another, and the last I shall mention, is a monument erected to the memory of Wm. Fred. Harnden, the founder of the Express business in the United States. It was erected by the express companies of the United States. There are scenes representing an express-man's life, elegantly carved upon its four sides. I also noticed several squares beautifully fixed up, and elegant monuments placed upon them. No names were to be seen upon the monuments. I was told that they had been erected preparatory to the call of the master. There is a tower in the grounds, from the top of which Boston and all the surrounding towns can be seen. Nearly in the center of the cemetery is a chapel built of granite, in the Gothic style of architecture. Upon one of the end windows is painted Raphael's Cherubs. Around beneath the arches are statues—life size—of some of Massachusetts' honored sons. There is the Colonial Governor, Jno. Winthrop; her statesman, Jas. Otis; her President of the United States, Jno. Adams, and last, but noblest and grandest of all, her Jos. Story, whose judicial decisions are a monument to his memory, which will endure long after this carved marble shall crumble in the dust. This cemetery is under the direction and ownership of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society. They keep several men busily engaged in attending to it and keeping it in order. Let every one who visits Boston pay Mount Auburn a visit and he will not regret it.

Oglethorpe College.

Editor Constitution: It is well fully to discuss this important matter, and I am glad to notice the deep interest which divers writers manifest in it. The great question which should absorb every other at present, is the money indispensable to building the college. This settled, the question of location, I judge, can be easily determined. Yet I by no means regard this as an unimportant point—the college should be in the right place; and I believe when we come to compare notes, we shall all agree to put it in the right place.

The writer over the signature "F," in THE CONSTITUTION of Friday morning, objects the three places already mentioned, and where lands have been tendered, and proposes another, namely: "Kirkwood," on the Georgia Railroad. I have but one objection to Kirkwood—its distance from the city. Kirkwood is four miles from the center of the city. Now, what the college will need at the outset, is a large local patronage. Will it be likely to secure that from the city at that distance? I doubt it. This difficulty, it is true, might in some measure be obviated if the Georgia Railroad would run an accommodation train morning and evening. And this I may be constrained to do before long. I am pleased with the proposition of locating the college on one of the railroads. It reminds me of a remark made to myself a few days since by one of the wisest and most venerable men of our day, and who has had much experience in the management of literary institutions. Speaking about the probable removal of Oglethorpe, he said: "Put your college on one of your railroads. It will serve as a standing and permanent advertisement of your college, which will be conveyed by the travelers throughout the land." But we have no location at Kirkwood. Kirkwood grove is owned by a distinguished Professor in Washington College, Virginia. What he might be supposed to do, we know not. I shall be satisfied with any place combining easiness of access, health and freedom, as far as possible, from temptation to vice and immorality. The question may be left to the majority of subscribers, or the amount which they contribute to the object, or it may be left to the Prudential or Executive Commitee which will be appointed by the Trustees, and which will necessarily be located in the city. One thing is certain, it must be near the city.

Let us all remember, we are proposing to do a work, not only for the present generation, but for those who shall follow us. Let us do it wisely and well.

But I would remind our citizens, that the removal of the College, with its Professors etc., depends upon our movement, in pledging what I believe Atlanta can and ought to do—at least $40,000 in lands and buildings. Some eighteen months ago, the City Council at my suggestion readily voted ten acres of the old fair grounds to aid in raising the necessary funds, provided the College should be removed. This was in the first earnest agitation of the question. I went to Milledgeville and worked hard with other friends of the enterprise. But we failed, and I thought we were looked upon as a band of college pirates, for we had no smiles, nor bread except what we paid for. I believe the City Council has never revoked that gift. It is supposed those grounds will now sell for at least $10,000; and the Council might, perhaps, feel at liberty under the present circumstances to augment their beneficence.

If we do it not, Atlanta will lose the College, and many years may elapse ere she will have a literary institution of high character. Some may say, "we can build a College of our own." That is true. But we all know there is something in a name. Atlanta College would be without prestige. Oglethorpe has been long known—its graduates are all over the land—there are many of them among us to-day.

That it will be removed I doubt not. It cannot succeed where it is. It done well before the war; but the overturning of the war has changed the condition of the country—it has transformed it into a new country. The population has changed—the wealth has changed—and we must change with it. It seems strange to me that those who oppose the measure, should continue oblivious of this fact. I have asked them, where is the mass of Georgia's white population? West of the centre of the State. And the West is becoming yearly stronger. Its lands, its health, its minerals, its manufactures, its wide-awake population and enterprise are causing it to rise with giant power. If it does not now govern the counsels of the State, it will soon do it. Wise men should gracefully yield to this state of things, and not selfishly set up their individual interests against the interests of the whole people. Those who attempt to arrest this machinery of events, will find themselves no better off eventually, than the old Dow who waged an expedition against the wind mills.

These people of the West, as their wealth and power increases, will wish to educate their sons. Many of them are doing it now, by sending them to distant Colleges. Where would they most naturally educate them, if they had a school of ample endowment at Atlanta? Why, surely here—in this emporium of the West—where almost every man has business at one time or another—in this place so easy of access—where they could visit their sons, or their sons visit them at the expense of a few hours' travel.

Now, citizens of Atlanta, I leave you to reflect on the subject. If you neglect it, there are others who will take it up. Macon may become a candidate. I learn that the people about the present location of the College, are for Macon, as I suppose they are becoming convinced they can not hold it where it is—and any thing but Atlanta, with the people of that region, even the midst of Okafanoka swamp. I know not that Macon will bid, but it may.

J. S. WILSON,
Trustee of Oglethorpe College.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

SUNDAY'S DISPATCHES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—It is stated that the Grand Jury of New York, have caused subpœnas to be issued for Corbin, Butterfield, Fisk, Gould, and numerous others, to appear next week and testify relative to the great gold panic.

Father Hyacinthe attended the Jewish Synagogue to-day, and leaves on Monday for Boston.

Josephine Wood, who was cut with a bowie-knife by her paramour last night in Crosby street, will die. Vasquez, her murderer, was successful in a suicidal attempt. One of the bullets that he fired into his head, lodged near his temple; he probably will die to-night.

Special dispatches northward to-night, are to the effect that the President does not condemn Butterfield, until he has testimony other than that volunteered by persons who made such false statements against himself and Mrs. Grant in connection with the gold conspiracy. Boutwell has sent Solicitor Banfield to New York to investigate the matter, and nothing will be done until he reports.

The Spanish Minister has informed his government that the Hornet will not be released, to be used as a war vessel by the insurgents.

MONDAY'S DISPATCHES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—Returns from judicial elections show a comparatively large Democratic majority.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 25.—Weather is clear. It is thought that the Board of Education will to-night, exclude the Bible from public schools.

A barge, laden with three thousand barrels of flour, sunk at the levee to-day.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—It is stated that the steamer Lillian had landed men and a part of her cargo, on the Cuban coast previous to her capture by the British war vessel Lapwing. Report that the Lillian's consort, Teazer, was captured by the Spanish vessel, L'Africa, is discredited. The Quaker City and Florida had a sharp fight with Salnave's fleet. Both sides claim the victory. There was an earthquake on the 5th at Laguyra.

In the Supreme Court to-day, Chase read an elaborate opinion in the Yerger case, to the effect that the Supreme Court of the United States has jurisdiction under the Constitution and Judiciary act of 1866, and that act of 1867, was repealed by act of 1868, does not take away the jurisdiction of this Court, in case the writ of habeas corpus was referred to as among our most valuable rights, and was guarded by the Constitution. The merits of the Yerger case were not involved in the opinion. the Court merely assuming jurisdiction. Yerger's counsel will have a conference to-morrow with the Attorney General, when further proceedings under the jurisdiction will be arranged. The granting of the writ is still pending.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—At an immense Fenian amnesty demonstration here, several thousand women, wearing green flowers and scarfs, were in the procession. Fifty thousand people were present. The American flag was displayed and loudly cheered. Some speeches of a highly inflammatory character were made. Resolutions demanding amnesty were passed by acclamation, when the meeting quietly dispersed. The police reserves were ready and troops assembled at the barracks, but their interference was unnecessary.

"Awfully Swell"—the New Fashion in Young Dandies' Clothes.

The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Telegraph writes:

Some sweet fashions for young men are out. One of these is the low-necked shirt, so low, indeed, that the shoulder-blades are all but visible, and the Adam's apple is fully revealed, nestling in virgin purity amid a nook of linen. The masculine throat has been to long concealed, and, among expressions of feminine admiration, we may expect this autumn to hear, in addition to "What handsome teeth Mr. So-and-so has got," the corresponding remark, "Yes, my dear, and what a delicious neck!" Shirt fronts, too, are elaborately embroidered, and lined with rose-colored silk. At jewelers', masculine bracelets, inscribed with memorial names and dates, are displayed, and even handkerchief-rings, for full-dress occasions. Add to these the Fra Diavolo hat, with peacock's plume, checked vest patterns of all possible shades in combination, and patterns for trowsers, consisting of small squares rainbow in hue, underlying larger ones. Add to these again, buttons of pearl, amethyst, and carbuncle, and it will easily be understood that the male belle is just as "finicky" as the female one about personal adornment. I say nothing of masculine powders and cosmetics, because this is a theme of which nothing is supposed to be known; but I simply put the question whether the creature who sports bracelets, and wears a low-necked shirt for the purpose of displaying a snowy bo——, that is throat, is not equally susceptible to the blandishments dormant in ROUGE VINAIGRE and oxide of bismuth?

Jumble.

An impudent fellow says: "Show me all the dresses a woman has worn in the course of her life, and I will write her biography."

A young woman recently died of starvation near Montgomery, Ala. The paper says she couldn't get work, "and holding her virtue at a priceless cost, she straggled off and died."

A fellow in Wisconsin, who has been sitting on a jury in a hog case for two days, has become a woman's rights man. He says it wouldn't have been half as hard if he could have had a good-looking woman on each side.

The following slanderous paragraph goes unrebuked: A wag has invented a new telegraph. He proposes to place a line of women fifty steps apart, and commit the news to the first of them as a secret.

A Wisconsin paper alleges that the secret of the success of Chicago newspapers, lies in the fact that every man and woman in the town takes every paper, for fear a divorce notice in which they are interested may be published and they not find it out.

The first chapter of a Western novel has the following: "All of a sudden the fair girl continued to sit on the sand, gazing upon the briny deep, on whose heaving bosom the tall ships went merrily by, freighted—ah! who can tell with how much joy and sorrow, and pine lumber, and emigrants, and hopes, and salt fish.

Women are getting so they can do almost everything that man can. Abigail J. Brewer, a young woman of a strong mind, has been arrested in Indiana for stealing a span of horses, and is now in confinement.—Exchange.

The latter performance is certainly not a male one.

Official Journal of the City.

I. W. AVERY, Editor.

MORNING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, OCTOBER 26.

☞ A statue of Lincoln has been unveiled at Prospect Park, Brooklyn. Over 12,000 people were present.

☞ Old Greeley deplores the influence of Boutwell in the Texas election. Says B. should not forget his Tennessee experience. G. don't want the administration to get the ill-will of the unsuccessful side.

The Municipal Meeting.

The Democratic meeting to arrange for a municipal ticket, is to come off at the City Hall on Friday night, instead of Wednesday night, as stated in the notice Sunday morning.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure of a call yesterday from our old friends and army acquaintances, Gen. Gustavus W. Smith and Col. B. W. Frobel. We were delighted to meet these gentlemen and recall the old days. Gen. Smith is looking to be in admirable health. He is still in Chattanooga.

Gladstone.

The foreign telegraph brings us news that Gladstone, the English Minister, has declined to release the Fenian prisoners. Many petitions, numerously signed, have been offered, requesting the release of these prisoners.

Of course it is difficult to pass a correct judgment upon events so far removed, and in ignorance of the circumstances that moulded the action of the British Premier.

But it does seem to us that Mr. Gladstone has made a great blunder. The opportunity to have conciliated the Fenians, and mollified the antagonism of the Irish, was not to be neglected. The British government has effectually shown its power. An exhibition of mercy would not hurt its dignity, but would reconcile the Fenians much to its rule.

The whole cause of the Fenian trouble has been the oppressions of the government. This action must embitter the animosity. It must deepen the hatred to the ruling powers. Kindness might have quenched the inimitable spark. Now it will smoulder, to break into flame at the first auspicious moment.

The Commercial Convention.

The Richmond Despatch says, that the late Louisville Commercial Convention, did little or no good, and no harm.

The St. Louis Republican says, it was a social success, and a decided step in the path of renewed commercial prosperity.

The St. Louis Democrat says, its financial action contained some egregious blunders, in conjunction with the enunciation of some very sound financial privileges.

The New York Express says, it was a true Peace Congress, and can not fail to do great good.

The New York Herald says, it was twaddle.

The New Orleans Times says, it was a fraternizing assemblage, but it shrinked the pig-tail question.

The Buffalo Express says, that Fillmore was too gushing in saying nice things about Kentucky.

The New York Advertiser says, Congress must look out this winter for a foray of beggars, wanting for the South the mild sum of three or four hundred millions, as its result.

The New York Evening Post, gets funny over Millard Fillmore, coming out from his twenty year old sepulchre, and Erastus Brooks, resolving into existence continental railroads, and ocean steamers.

Political Death.

There is any amount of trashy vaticination in vogue now in regard to defeated political candidates. Somebody utters a thing as a truism, others take it up without examining its claim to truth, and it finally gets a widespread currency, when if reduced to its true proportions, it would be found to be mere nonsense.

Whenever a politician gets defeated, it is the habit to pronounce him politically dead. Andy Johnson fails to get to the United States Senate, and all sorts of predications are made that he has gone to his political grave.

Pendleton was beaten for Governor of Ohio, and everybody howls out that he has no chances for nomination for an election that is three years off. The truth is, there never was simpler twaddle uttered.

The Chicago Times very properly says, that two years and a half hence will be time enough to consider whether Mr. Pendleton will be an available democratic candidate for the Presidency. What changes must take place between now and then it is impossible to say. One thing is certain, that the Democracy think no less of Mr. Pendleton since his defeat. His prominence is no less, his statesmanship, integrity, eloquence, influence, not diminished. Our political history shows no instance in which the brains and tact of a single man did better work than did those of Pendleton in the campaign just closed in Ohio.

He was fighting the battle of the masses against the bond-holders and every appliance of money was used against him.

To suppose that these men of great brains and national reputation, in the very prime of manhood, in the zenith of their intellectual vigor, and ripe with experience, are going to allow themselves to be shoved aside, and shelved merely because they have had a backset, is the most preposterous absurdity of the day.

It is a new sophism of the age that a little failure is to paralyze a man's ambition and utility forever. That don't suit the genius of our people. It is false in theory and impracticable in practice.

The Democrats certainly don't mean to drop their best leaders for the paltry reason of defeat; while the Radicals would unquestionably be pleased to thus get rid of their sturdiest foemen.

WHEN GRANT IS COMING TO GEORGIA. The papers are circulating the report that President Grant will visit the Georgia State Fair. This is a mistake. The President stated to the editor of the Journal in a private conversation some days since, that he would not be able to visit the South until, perhaps, very late in the winter. The visit would be well received by every one, and we trust it will be made.—Alabama Journal.

☞ The discovery of Junius, so often announced, has at length, it is said, been placed beyond doubt by the researches of the Hon. Edward Twisleton, of England, who has, for the first time, called in the aid of a scientific expert in handwriting, the well-known Mr. Charles Chabot. The results will shortly be made public, together with fac-similes of the autographs of Junius' Letters to Woodfall and George Grenville.

Cuba.

THE HOME GOVERNMENT.

The first National Congress of Cuba was organized by a meeting of appointed deputies last February. The first act of that legislative body was to emancipate the slaves of the island. On the first of last April it re-assembled to frame a Constitution. It approved one on the 10th of that month. The twenty-fourth clause declares all men free and equal. On the 9th of June the island was divided into four States, the Eastern and Western, Las Villas and Camaguey. Quesada then divided the island into three military districts and properly appointed three army corps.

There are 9 Major-Generals, 26 Brigadier-Generals, 60 Colonels, and 64 Lieutenant-Colonels, with a proportionate number of officers of the line. The entire population of Cuba is 1,359,238. There are 221,417 free colored people, and were 368,350 slaves, 4,531 emancipated slaves, and 761,750 whites.

The whole sugar district is in the hands of the Cubans. In ten days' time they could destroy that crop or the bulk of it.

PATRIOT TERRITORY.

The Cubans hold about 34,000 square miles of the area of Cuba, the Spaniards the remainder, or 13,582 miles. The latter have control of the Western or Vuelto Abajo region, and the Cubans have the Central and Eastern departments. Spanish authority in those departments extends only so far as Spanish balls may reach. The people are with the Cubans. The shopkeepers of the cities are with the Spaniards. The Cubans hold 40 towns of 300 to 6,000 inhabitants each. They have a capital, Guimaro, a President and Cabinet, a Congress, a Supreme Court, foreign ministers, and a government in its second year. To sustain that Government they have fought 360 odd battles.

The Cubans have a larger army to-day than the thirteen colonies had at any time during the first three years of our struggle for independence. They are sea-bound, cut off from all the world, and aside from unavailing Mexican, Venzuelan, Chilian, and Peruvian moral aid, Cuba has no hope but from her own dauntless sons and daughters, her own hills, mountains, and savannas, and the sympathy of the American press and people.—N. Y. Sun.

ANDY JOHNSON.

How he was Defeated—Interesting Particulars.

Col Fleming, editor of the Knoxville Press, from Nashville on the 22d, thus tells the tale of Johnson's defeat:

When the Convention adjourned yesterday, Mr. Johnson's strength developed forty-eight votes—in fact forty-nine, with one paired off—and he yet had a reserve of at least eight votes that could be counted upon. That he would be elected upon the first or second ballot, this morning, was publicly a conceded fact, and none of his enthusiastic personal opponents could be found who were rash enough to wager against his election. His friends had stood faithful upon every ballot, and, on yesterday, with every call of the roll, he showed an increased strength. Upon the adjournment, every resource of the opposition was taxed. No stone was to be left unturned to defeat Andrew Johnson. Members were plied with all the arts known to politicians. They were cornered in the public halls. They were sought out in their rooms They were stopped on the street. They were offered--I'll not say what inducements were not offered. A caucus was called, into which all who desired the defeat of Andrew Johnson, were admitted. It met, and there, in conclave assembled, was a blending of spirits that Shakspeare's oft quoted "mingling," would fail to describe. There were the Radicals of East Tennessee — the "Fletcher men"--there were the rebels of deepest dye, representing such men as Isham G. Harris, Whitthorne, Foote & Co. There, too, was Emerson Etheridge—I blush to write it—hand in glove with the rebels of the West and the Radicals of the East, sacrificing himself and conspiring with his new-born fellows to strike down Andrew Johnson. The motives of all these parties can well be understood. Isham G. Harris (who, though he may not have been present, was there by his agents,) has never forgotten the speech of Mr. Johnson in the Senate, in which he declared "that he would not permit that man (Harris) to be his slave." The Radicals, thus assembled, could very naturally resolve to "vote for any man against Anddrew Johnson," for no man alive has done more to cripple the Radical party in its aggressive and oppressive policy than Andrew Johnson. I say these motives are all easily understood. But how Emerson Etheridge—the gifted, brilliant, daring leader of 1867—must have felt when he found himself yielding his own claims, (which no one has disputed,) to the demands or wishes of twelve or fourteen East Tennessee Radicals. I confess I can not imagine. I wonder if the thoughts of that terrible campaign of his, in East Tennessee, when pistols, bludgeons and knives were the arguments with which he was met, did not cross his mind as he made a surrender of himself for the purpose of joining these Radicals in their cherished purpose of defeating Andrew Johnson. Yet so it was. A coalition was formed, not "a murdered coalition," but a murderous coalition—by which the fourteen or fifteen Radicals of the House were enabled to enjoy their revenge in the overthrow of Mr. Johnson and his friends. Much can be allowed to the feelings of personal resentment naturally felt by Mr. Etheridge, but in thus calling upon Radical aid to prostrate his adversary, he has done that which his people will not soon forget. Though defeated himself, he may nevertheless feel a melancholy satisfaction in the defeat of his opponent. This is natural, but after this Radical coalition to accomplish the result, then comes the deluge; and I am much mistaken if this new alliance with Radicalism does not meet a severer rebuke than was given to proscriptive Radicalism last August. I say this more in sorrow than in anger," for of Emerson Etheridge I can truly say that I love him. I regret that he should have deemed such a coalition as that I have described proper for this or any other occasion.

But now comes a sadder tale. I said before, that last night the election of Mr. Johnson was a fixed fact. I mean that enough votes were assured to elect him; but, of course, it was not expected that those who had been leaders in organizing his forces should desert him when the hour of battle arrived. Foremost and most trustworthy of Mr. Johnson's friends, was Edmund Cooper, a gentleman upon whom Mr. Johnson had bestowed many favors, and who, I take pleasure in stating, had shown himself worthy of such consideration. Now, in all the combinations attempted against Mr. Johnson, it was found necessary to make a breach in the line of voters who had already enrolled themselves for him. This, neither Brown, Ewing, Stephens, Peyton, or any one else that had been tried, could do. The vulnerable point of Achilles was found. Henry Cooper was taken up, and Henry being the brother of Ed., the leader of the column gave way. With him went three or four of Mr. Johnson's friends, and his defeat was sealed with the aid of the Radical votes, which was readily granted as a matter of course.

IS BROWNLOW DEAD?—The New York World of the 6th says that he is, but we have seen no other mention of his death. With Brownlow in heaven, and two good Conservatives from Tennessee in the United States Senate, not only that State but the whole Union would have cause for congratulation over events which, until quite lately, were thought impossible.—Columbus Enquirer.

Brownlow where, did you say?—Savannah Republican.

We thought we had expressed our doubts plainly as politeness and the circumstances of the case would admit. The future whereabouts of Brownlow need not trouble any good Christian.—Enquirer.

It is believed he could not gain admittance at the other place, but that the devil might be persuaded to give him enough coal, sulphur and matches to start a small hell on his own hook in New England, or some other suburban locality.—Albany News.

You have forgotten. He has been running a pretty large hell in Tennessee for the last few yerrs. In going to a Radical Congress, he landed in another that equals anything old Satan rules.

☞ It is said that Gen. Banks learned the printing trade when a young man, in the office of the Boston Traveller. Mrs. Banks, when a girl, also worked in the same office. They left the Traveller office to start a weekly paper in Waltham, Massachusetts, which was carried on successfully for some time, with the aid of "one jour. printer."

Political.

The vote in the California judicial election is light. Returns from the interior, so far, are favorable to the Democrats.

Horace Greeley has written a letter to Mr. Tilden, begging him to use his influence to stop election frauds in New York City.

The Herald says, Chase is the man for the Democracy in the next Presidential race. He has never yet been backward in a Presidental chase.

The Radicals in Washington threaten Congressional interference, if the Supreme Court in the Yerger case decides the Reconstruction acts unconstitutional.

Judge Dent writes from Mississippi that his canvass of that State leads him to believe that the gubernatorial election will be almost entirely in his favor, and that the colored men will, with few exceptions, vote as directed by their late masters.

A Georgia paper, speaking of the expenses of the carpet-bag legislature, says that "if we dance, we suppose we must pay the fiddler." Another paper suggests that if they wouldn't import the fiddlers so far, they wouldn't be so costly.

The Richmond Whig says: "A large secret society of colored voters, bound together by an oath that they will vote for no one for office except colored men, is, we hear, in existence in this city, and its membership is rapidly increasing."

Here is the speech of acceptance, reported verbatim, of a Democratic candidate for Sheriff in Wisconsin: "Gentlemen, I have served you as Sheriff one term. I regard this nomination as an indorsement of my official conduct. I cannot make a speech or preach, but when this Convention is over, we will all go down to Peter Rupp's and take a drink."

Judge Covode, the Chairman of the Radical State Central Committee of Pennsylvania, has less dictionary about him perhaps than any other man in the United States. It is said that he wrote to a friend just before the late election: "You ha'n't mutch time to spair—it will be damn kloas." In reference to which, the Indianapolis Mirror says: "Covode and James B. Foley, of this State, would make a delightful pair to drive through the dictionary. The latter wrote once from Congress about his 'four fathers,' and excused his bad spelling in a subsequent letter by saying that he 'was sick when he wrote it.'"

The Cincinnati Gazette (Radical) thus talks since the election. If the bond-holders are not cheated by Ohio Radicalism, there is no virtue in words.

"Let it not be supposed that the people of Ohio endorsed the public credit bill, or that they are in favor, unconditionally, of paying bonds in gold, which, by the terms of the contract, can be shown to be payable in the currency of the country. If Congress shall devise means that will enhance the value of the greenback dollar and place a new loan upon the market at a low rate of interest, the people will acquiesce; but if a gap of 25 per cent is to remain between the paper dollar and the gold dollar, they will not consent to the payment of a debt in the latter that is legally payable in the former. This, upon the bond question, is the meaning of the election."

Secretary Boutwell authorizes the immediate payment of the November interest without rebate.

The President will be absent from noon to-morrow until Thursday.

Phillip Phillips appeared for Mobile, and ex-Judge John A. Campbell of Alabama, for Waring. The Supreme Court in an opinion delivered to-day held, that under the laws of the United States and under the circumstances of the case the plaintiff in error was not the importer of the salt, but the mere purchaser from the importer, and the fact that he sold in unbroken packages did not exempt him from State taxation. He had not participated in the risks of the voyage, but was a mere purchaser of goods to arrive. The owners of the ship on whose account the salt was laden and who had complied with the laws in the matter of discharging by lighters, were to be deemed the importers. The judgement was affirmed.

The plaintiff in error is a merchant of Mobile, and claims to be an importer of salt in that port. He complains that the city, under authority of State law, seems to impose upon him a tax on sales and a penalty for its non-payment, which he alleged was illegal, because it conflicts with that clause in the Constitution of the United States, which prohibited the State from laying any duties on imports and exports.

Judge Chase concludes as follows: "The argument having been confined to the question of jurisdiction, this opinion is directed to the question of the jurisdiction of the Court to issue the writ as affirmed. The following is an extract from the opinion: 'We are obliged to hold, therefore, that, in all cases where a circuit court of stated States have, in the exercise of its original jurisdiction, caused a prisoner to be brought before it and has, after enquiring into the case of detention, remanded him to the custody from which he was taken. This Court, in the exercise of its appellate jurisdiction, may, by the writ of habeas corpus, aided by the writ of certiorari, reverse the decision of the Circuit Court, and, if it be found unwarranted by law, relieve the prisoner from the unlawful restraint to which he has been remanded.'"

The Attorney General of the State obtained judgment in the Sixth District Court, against the State Treasurer, for over sixteen thousand dollars, for alleged services in cancelling a special tax under the law of the Legislature of 1868. He claimed a hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars.

Jefferson Davis arrived here to-day.

WILMINGTON, October 25.—The case of the officers of the Cuba was resumed to-day. After an hour's session the court adjourned over until to-morrow. By an order from the authorities in Washington, parties were engaged in taking stores from the Cuba to-day.

RICHMOND, Oct. 25.—President Grant has pardoned Andrew Patterson and Elsom, who were convicted here in 1868, of conspiring to defraud the Revenue, and sent to Albany Penitentiary.

The Fair which commences Tuesday, November 2d, is the first since the war. The new grounds comprise sixty acres, and are nearly covered with new exhibition buildings. The entries already exceed any Fair before the war, and those from the Norther States are five times as great. President Grant and Cabinet will be invited.

The Republican organ of the State claims to have information from a reliable source, that Secretary Boutwell has declared that Judge Johnston, Senator-elect from Virginia has a moral right to the removal of his disabilities, which should not be impaired by an unintentional oversight of Congress, and that President Grant concurs with Boutwell and expresses his hope that Congress will remove Johnston's disabilities.

RALEIGH, October 25.—Governor Holden is organizing and arming a company of negroes in this city, which is creating much excitement. It is supposed they are designed to be sent to Orange or Chatham counties, to suppress the pretending Ku Klux.

LONDON, October 25.—Fears of a revolt at Paris are diminishing, the Government taking every precaution to guard against disturbances. Marshal Bosaine has been authorized to use his cannon without mercy, if need be.

Austin Henry Layrd, the author, has been appointed Minister to Spain.

J. Cunnington, Professor of Latin at Oxford, is dead—aged 45.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—The Emperor has arrived at the Tuilleries. M. Pelia, Prefect of Police, has issued a proclamation, in which he says: In view of the proceedings expected on the 26th inst., which are likely to disturb the public peace, the authorities inform the people of Paris that measures will be taken to insure respect of law and maintain tranquility. Good citizens are requested to be on guard against impudent curiosity, and not expose themselves to consequences that may result by the enforcement of the law against mobs.

CHARLESTON, October 25.—Arrived—ship Duke of Wellington, from Liverpool: brig H. C. Brooks, from Philadelphia; schooner Sarah Cullen, from Woodsdale; brig Susie J. Strout, from Brunswick, Ga., put back leaking; schooners W. B. Thomas and Althea, which previously sailed for Philadelphia, put back caused by head gale.

SAVANNAH, October 25.—Arrived—Steamers Gen. Barnes, from New York; Wentworth, from New London; Thomas Cochran, from Boston; Rosetta McNell, from Boston; Brigs John H. Kennedy, from New York; E. P. Swett, Portland; Schooners Lizzie A. Watson, from Baltimore; J. J. Worthington, from New York; Emma D. Terry, from New York.

The Japanese Parliament have voted to surrender all the estates, retainers and revenues belonging to them as Daimios to the Mikado, and to receive from him honorary titles instead of that of Daimios, and an allowance of one-tenth of their revenues, with relief from the support of their old retainers.

NASHVILLE MARKET.—Wheat, $1.00 to 1.20. Corn, sacked, $1.10 to $1.12. Oats, sacked, 75 to 80c. Flour, $5.00 to $8.25. Bacon, 20c. Lard, 21.

☞ Indications in Madrid now are, that Duke Montpensier will be the successful candidate for the throne of Spain.

WOLFE'S SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS AS A MEDICINE AND BEVERAGE.—As a general beverage, a necessary corrector of water rendered impure by vegetable decomposition or other causes, as Limestone, Sulphate of Copper, etc., the Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is superior to every other alcoholic preparation. Its purity and exemption from all grossly intoxicating properties, combined with its mildly stimulating and invigorating elements, establish it as the only alcoholic beverage in our country that can be imbibed with pleasure and safety. The nervous torpor and debility which follow the administration of other alcoholic preparations and mixtures of the day, succeeded by their intense and painful nervous reactions, are unknown as the subsequent effects of the Schiedam Schnapps, even when taken so freely; while as a Stomachic, a Tonic Appetiser, it stands pre-eminent among the established curatives of the day.

A public trial of twenty years' duration, in every section of our country, of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; its unsolicited indorsement by the medical faculty, and a sale unequaled by any other alcoholic distillation, have insured for it the reputation of purity and salubrity claimed for it by the proprietor on its original introduction to the public.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, handsomely wrapped in yellow paper.

For sale by all druggists, apothecaries and grocers in the United States.

DOUGHERTY COUNTY

COTTON LANDS,

Mules, Corn, Fodder, etc.,

—AT—

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE.

BY VIRTUE of an order from the Court of Ordinary of Dougherty county, Ga., I will sell, to the highest bidder, before the Court House door of said county, in the city of Albany, between the legal hours of sale, on the first Tuesday in December, 1869, the following lands, to wit: The Place known as the Mott Place, in the 2d district of said county, consisting of lots Nos. 255, 256, 266, 267, 294 and 297, containing 1,050 acres, and the Clayton Place, in the same district, and adjoining the Mott Place, consisting of lots Nos. 268, 269, 253 and 238, containing 1,000 acres.

The Mott Place, oak and hickory lands, on Kiokee Creek, about 850 acres cleared.

Clayton Place, about half oak and hickory, the remainder good pine lands, about 500 acres cleared.

Good Gin House and Press upon each place, and good cabins, lying about 14 miles south-west of Albany, and class with the best lands in Southwest Georgia.

Possession given 25th December, 1869.

TERMS—One-third cash, and one-third 15th October, 1870; and one-third 15th October, 1871; all with interest from date of sale. Bond for titles given until all the purchase money is paid, purchaser paying for titles and stamps; mortgage on personal property and crops to secure purchase money.

Also, at the same time and place, will be sold the undivided half interest in what is known as the Hill place, the other half being now owned by Capt. John A. Davis, consisting of lots of land Nos. 8, east half of 7, east half of 33, in the 1st district of Dougherty county, and Nos. 414, 415, 402, east-half of 461 in the 7th district of Worth county, making in the aggregate a plantation of 2,216 acres, eight miles east of Albany, Ga. Same terms as the others above mentioned.

Also, on the 9th of December,

BARBECUE TO-DAY.—A barbecue will be given at the sale of West End property this morning.

"HOME AGAIN."—John H. James, Esq., traveler, after a fortnight's visit to New York and other cities, has returned to his post.

COLORED EMIGRANTS.—Three car loads of colored emigrants, from Virginia and North Carolina, passed through here yesterday, en route to Mississippi.

IN FISH-AL.—Quite an excitement was created on Whitehall street yesterday, by the discovery of mammoth eels, catfish and sturgeon. They were equal to a circus.

COLLISION BETWEEN CABS.—Two cab cars on the Georgia Road backed into each other at Trowbridge, on Saturday night, causing some little damage to several box cars.

A DRAFT.—It is thought by some that a draft will have to be resorted to in order to secure a Mayor for our city, as it is so hard to find any one willing to accept the office. Should a draft be resorted to, can substitutes be allowed?

ACCIDENT.—On Sunday last, Braxton Bragg Tuller, son of Capt W. A Tuller, known as the "model" conductor, while playing with some other boys, fell and broke his arm just above the wrist. We hope that he may speedily recover.

HEAVY FREIGHTAGE.—The Augusta papers state that the amount of freight received at Augusta by the Georgia Road, is so great that the depot will not contain it, and large quantities are piled under the eaves of the building, and covered with tarpaulins.

REV. ISAAC M. WISE.—We are pleased to learn that Rev. Isaac M Wise will lecture tonight, at Concordia Hall, at 7½ o'clock. Admission free. We trust that our citizens will turn out and hear his entertaining and interesting lecture.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.—Platt Madison, who was run off the Georgia train about the 6th of November last, we learn, will shortly bring suit against the Georgia road for damages, to the amount of $5,000, in DeKalb Superior Court. Col A. Stephens, Esq., will appear for the plaintiff.

IRISH JAUNTING CAR.—A. T. Finney has recently constructed a novelty in the shape of an Irish Jaunting Car, which, for lightness and beauty, eclipses all other kind of vehicles. The passengers set on seats arranged on the side, the driver in front. The body is placed directly over the two wheels, the entire weight resting on the axle. This kind of car is very popular in Ireland, and has been immortalized in song.

RUN OFF ON THE GEORGIA ROAD.—On Saturday night, the S o'clock freight train on the Georgia Road ran off just below Bell street bridge, at the last switch. The engine ran clean off, and two box cars had truck wheels torn loose. The damage to the engine and track was slight, but the track had to be slued around to allow the passengers to get in. The engine was gotten back on the track yesterday morning and carried to the round house. The accident was caused by the jumping out of the pin or bolt of the switch.

HABEAS CORPUS CASE.—The Augusta papers announce that a man named Pettis, who has been deputed by Governor Bullock to go to South Carolina, with a requisition for Robert Turnipseed, Esq., of Hamburg, charged with killing a Sheriff of Richmond county, has been seized in Augusta by a writ of habeas corpus and a writ was issued by Hon. John C. Sneed, of the City Court, and the investigation is reported to be quite interesting in its character.

INTERESTING ITEMS ABOUT OUR CITY.—The census returns of our city show many interesting features. From a careful perusal of them, we ascertain the following facts:

The alphabet is thus divided: A's 161; B 516; C 1 231; E 99; F 206; G 275; H 518; I 13; J 364; K L 283; M 429; N 57; O 75; P 271; Q 19; R 1 453; T 932; U 4; V 31; W 419; Y 17; Z 6.

Wards.—1st Ward 20; 2d 15; 3d 6; 4th 13; 5th 21. Total 75. Of these, 7 are named John.

Females.—1st Ward 11; 2d 13; 3d 6; 4th 13; 5th 4. Total 63.

Widows.—1st Ward 22; 2d 10; 3d 9; 4th 15; 5th 22. Total 78.

Over 90 years of age, whites 366; colored, 247.

The oldest man lives in the 1st Ward, and is a colored man named James Harvey, aged 168.

The list of white men over 65 would be quite interesting; but as some of them are widowers, some expecting that they may be, and some bachelors, for prudential reasons, we will not give them.

WARD CONVENTIONS.—We, citizens of Fulton, and members of the Democratic party, having the welfare of the city and the interest of the party will be best promoted by Ward Conventions, to nominate candidates for Councilmen in each Ward, and to appoint ten delegates from each Ward, to meet together in convention, to name a candidate for Mayor—earnestly request all citizens who intend to act with the Democratic party, to hold meetings in their respective Wards, on the night of November the 1st' for the purposes above specified, and trust that the action of the meeting called for next Wednesday evening, will tend to forward this movement:

[For the Constitution.]

Mr. Editor: In your issue of the 24th instant, you say, "that a reader wishes to know the levying of a dormant fi. fa. on property, with a full knowledge of the fact, etc., comes within the 4369th section of Irwin's Code." I was glad to see this subject touched upon, and trust it may be fully ventilated by legal gentlemen competent to the task.

I have heard of many, and have known of a few very aggravating cases coming under my personal knowledge, that are clearly subject to prosecution for the offense of levying on property by virtue of a dormant fi. fa. For instance: I have been a Sheriff of a certain county, not a thousand miles from this city, who levied on a man's cotton, all he possessed, for a negro debt, which he had was dead dormant and buried by the orders of the law of the State. This levy was made at the instance of a certain notorious and heartless shylock, with no intention of selling perhaps, but to frighten the owner to pay every dollar, principal and interest, having time and time again refused to take Confederate money, and since the war, refused the principal and interest on the debt (except during the war,) in Greenbacks. Now, this Shylock and Sheriff are both guilty of malfeasance under the law.

This man's land was not sold, yet it was a source of great trouble and mortification to have his possessions paraded for sale all over the country.

The law has been violated in many places in the State, I learn, by levies on the "Homestead," the products of homesteads, etc., etc., which the Constitution says shall be for the "sole use and benefit of the family."

The truth is the masses of our people are exceedingly ignorant of law, and are known to be poor and helpless in point of finances. Many an unfortunate man has been reduced to abject poverty, and his family to the verge of starvation, for the want of friends and money to save his property from illegal sale. I would advise your "Solicitor," if himself or his friends have been

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR Medicine for Dyspepsia, Headache Jaundice, Costiveness, Camp Dysentery, Sick Headache, Chronic Diarrhoea, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Fever, Nervousness, hills, Diseases of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood Melancholy or Depression of Spirits

Most of the ailments here enumerated have their origin in a diseased liver, which is the most prevalent affection in this country, and as in many cases the patient is not within the reach of a physician, it required that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be active and safe. That such is the character of the SIMMONS REGULATOR there can be no doubt, which the testimony of hundreds will establish.

SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED

LIVER. Pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade is mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease but cases have occurred when few of them existed, yet examination of the body after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively deranged.

It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the foregoing symptoms appear. It is a purely vegetable compound, is not injurious to the most delicate constitutions, and will keep the liver in healthy action if used properly.

Persons living in unhealthy localities may avoid all bilious attacks by taking a dose occasionally to keep the liver in healthy action.

Regulator For children complaining of colic, headache, or sick stomach a teaspoonful or more will give relief. Children, as well as adults, eat sometimes too much supper, or eat something which does not digest well, producing sour stomach, heart-burn, or restlessness; a good dose will give relief. This applies to persons of all ages.

Many persons, from eating too much, are restless at night, or in day time flagety, wool-gathering, can't understand what they read, can't keep their thoughts on any one subject so as to reason well, or become fretful. One or two tablespoonful will give relief.

Jaundice.—Take enough Regulator after eating each meal to produce one full action from the bowels every day.

Pregnant ladies will find sure relief from their headache, costiveness, swimming in the head, colic, sour stomach, restlessness, etc., etc.

DR. JOHN BULL'S Great Remedies.

DR. JOHN BULL,

Manufacturer and Vendor of the Celebrated

Smith's Tonic Syrup,

FOR THE CURE OF

AGUE AND FEVER,

—OR—

Chills and Fever.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the safe, certain, speedy and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southwestern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually, this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

Bull's Worm Destroyer.

To my United States and World-wide Readers.

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my almanacs and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible communications I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER:

VILLANOW, Walker Co., Ga., June 29, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the ablest authors that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary, they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine direct from you. If I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line M. D's, but I see no just cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that flood the country, that purport to cure all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms. I am, sir, most respectfully,

JULIUS P. CLEMENT M. D

Bull's Sarsaparilla.

A Good Reason for the Captain's Faith.

READ THE CAPTAIN'S LETTER AND THE LETTER FROM HIS MOTHER.

BENTON BARRACK'S, Mo., April 30, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the healing and medicinal qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case.

I was wounded two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for sixteen months. Being moved so often, my wounds have not healed yet. I have not set up a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than in anything else. I wish that that is genuine. Please express me half a dozen bottles, and oblige.

Capt. C. P. JOHNSON.
St. Louis, Mo.

P. S.—The following was written April 30, 1865, by Mrs. Jeanie Johnson, mother of Captain Johnson:

DR. BULL—Dear Sir: My husband, Dr. C. S Johnson, was a skillful surgeon and physician in Central New York, where he died, leaving the above C P. Johnson to my care. At thirteen years of age he had a chronic diarrhœa and scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla. IT CURED HIM. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York, Ohio and Iowa, for scrofula, fever sores and general debility. Perfect success has attended it. The cures effected in some cases of scrofula and fever sores were almost miraculous. I am very anxious for my son to again have recourse to your Sarsaparilla. He is fearful of getting a spurious article, hence his writing to you for it. His wounds were terrible, but I believe he will recover.

Respectfully, JENNIE JOHNSON

Testimony of Medical Men

STONEY POINT, White Co., Ark., May 28, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Last February I was in Louisville purchasing drugs, and I got some of your Sarsaparilla and Cedron Bitters.

Myson-in-law, who was with me in the store, has been down with rheumatism for some time, commenced on the Bitters, and soon found his general health improved.

Dr. Gist, who has been in bad health, tried them, and he also improved.

Dr. Coffee, who has been in bad health for several years—stomach and liver affected—he improved very much by the use of your Bitters. Indeed, the Cedron Bitters has given you great popularity in this settlement. I think I could sell a great quantity of your medicine this fall, especially of your Cedron Bitters and Sarsaparilla. Ship me via Memphis, care Rickett & Neely.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

NO NIGHT THERE.

Affectionately Inscribed to Trinity Sabbath School.

BY MRS. LOULA K. ROGERS.

For The Constitution.]

Among all the brief negative descriptions which the Scriptures give of the heavenly state, no one is more full of meaning than this: "There shall be no night there."

The ways of God that now seem to our feeble and perverted vision most dark, shall then be irradiated with a glory above the brightness of the Sun. It will be the perfection of our mortal being to be made capable of living in a land where there shall be no night—no night of rest, because none are weary; no night of watching, because none are sick; no night of terror, because there are none to molest or make afraid.

NIGHT SCENES IN THE BIBLE.

No night there! Bright sunlight is streaming
O'er min'rets of silver, and turrets of gold.
Sweet flowers 'mid dew drops are blushingly gleaming,
And chaplets of beauty the angels enfold.
Each rainbow-hued fountain its mist wreaths are weaving
In glittering circlets a monarch can wear,
All is radiant and joy, no darkness and grieving,
No weeping and sighing, no harrowing care.

No night there! Soft zephyrs are gliding
On pinions of day-light, with melody free,
And beautiful streamlets 'neath laurel shades gliding,
Join with them in chanting of love and glee.
There where the "Beautiful River" is flowing,
Where flowers unfading send fragrance around,
Are visions of glory all radiantly glowing,
As Seraphim utter the name of the Lord!

No night there! No angels are moaning
O'er the loved and lost in death's cold shroud,
No blighted dreams sadden, no wailing or groaning,
No sorrowing there of the meek and bowed.
Oh! is it not blissful to think of the meeting
With memory's treasures that dwell in the heart?
The long loved voices in accents of greeting
Then mingle together, but never to part!

No night there! The Day King is spreading
His ripples of light over meadow and grove,
Where wind the gold pathways that spirits are treading,
And song birds are chanting of God and His love—
No war cloud o'er gathers, no midnight of horror,
No shrieks of the wounded, no reveller's bowl,
No sorrows of earth, no tear drop of sorrow
Can ever invade the sweet peace of the soul.

No night there! Soft music is pealing
From harps that the star-crowned Cherubim brings,
And thousands of children in snow white are kneeling,
Exultantly shouting, "Jehovah is King!"
Oh! beautiful Zion! Thither we are wending,
Let all, the glad tidings proclaim everywhere,
"There's rest for the weary"—our voices ascending,
Each Sabbath shall tell of the light that is there!

ATLANTA, October 23, 1869.

☞ The following card by a bereaved husband, published in a German weekly paper, is probably the most extraordinary composition of the kind on record: "To-day red, to-morrow dead,' so it was with my wife, who only eight days ago was jumping over tables and chairs. Yesterday all that was mortal of her was interred. She was during her marriage a lively woman, with whom one had to mind one's P.'s and Q.'s; therefore, my sorrow may be imagined. So young, so festive, and already buried! What is human life? said I repeatedly to myself all these days, and again yesterday in the churchyard, when I paid the sexton, who will keep the grave in order. I shall certainly never find so cheerful a wife again! therefore my sorrow is just. I wish heaven may keep every one from so sad a fate, and I thank the gardener for the floral decorations, as also the choirmaster for the funeral chant, which went through and through me, but was very well performed."

The London Saturday Review, in an article on the recent amnesty agitation, asks if Mr. Gladstone is prepared to act with rigor and severity in case of a new uprising of Fenians. It says, if he should show the faintest leaning toward favoring them, it would be the end of his career as minister.

A political society has been formed at Dresden called "Federation Society of the States of Europe," the object of which is the suppression of permanent armies and the abolition of war budgets.

FRESH TESTIMONIALS!

DARBY'S PROPHYLACTIC FLUID!

THE ASTONISHING

Family Medicine!!!

Saved from Death---Read!

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 28, 1869.

MESSRS. J. DARBY & CO., 161 William street, New York—Gents: Yours, of the 23d, is before me and has attention. It gives me pleasure to say, that my belief is, that your "Fluid," under the supervision of a kind Providence, saved the life of my youngest child, some six years ago. The child being wasted to a skeleton, by the effects of teething, and an affection of the bowels therewith. I had never seen any one reduced so low to recover.

"Physic" had been tried in vain, until the Physicians stated it was useless. A friend recommended your "Fluid," or ozone, which he stated was one of the component parts of it. I did so, and the effect was like magic, plainly discernable in one hour, in its good effects, producing quiet and sleep almost at once, where irritation and sleepless restlessness had previously possessed the child to nearly entire exhaustion.

I at first administered it in a small way, 2 and 3 drops in a spoonful of water, and increased it to 6 and 10 drops. It completely checked the bowels, and had the happiest effect, the child rapidly recovering.

I have tried your "Fluid," on animals, with the same effect; both horses and cows, mingling more or less in water, and letting them drink.

I have no hesitation in saying, I believe it a specific for Chronic Diarrhœa, or any violent affection of the bowels.

I would not be without it in my family, under any consideration.

Yours, truly, WILLIAM FOWLER.

Mr. Fowler is a member of the celebrated Banking House of Fowler & Somerville, Montgomery, Alabama.

AND AGAIN!

Read the following letter from Mr. Frank Saunders, a well-known citizen, and brother-in-law of the beloved Bishop Paine, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South:

189 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, July 29, 1869.

MESSRS. J. DARBY & CO., 161 WILLIAM STREET, NEW YORK—Gents: About the 10th of June last, one of my children was taken with Scarlet Fever, in its most malignant form, and as soon as I could I procured your valuable disinfectant, "Darby's Prophylactic Fluid." Although it was several days after the appearance of the disease before I began using the Fluid still, by a free use of it, the disease was not only confined to the one case, but the malignity of that case somewhat mitigated.

During the use of the Fluid, as a disinfectant, in my family it was also, tried in a case of headache, and one of toothache, the results in each case being instantaneous relief. It was afterwards tried in a case of Erysipelas, with almost equal success.

It is due to the merits of this compound, also, to state, that the case of Erysipelas in question, being located in the feet, the Fluid, in its application, was brought in frequent contact with a troublesome corn, on one of the feet, to the utter discomfiture of said corn; for, upon subsequent examination, it had disappeared, and though it was sought for diligently, it could not be found.

I hand you this, hoping it may be the means of inducing others of earth's poor sufferers, to test for themselves, as I did, the great merits of this great remedy.

Very respectfully, yours,
FRANK SAUNDERS.

Never was a medicine so universally esteemed and extolled. It never fails. It may be depended on.

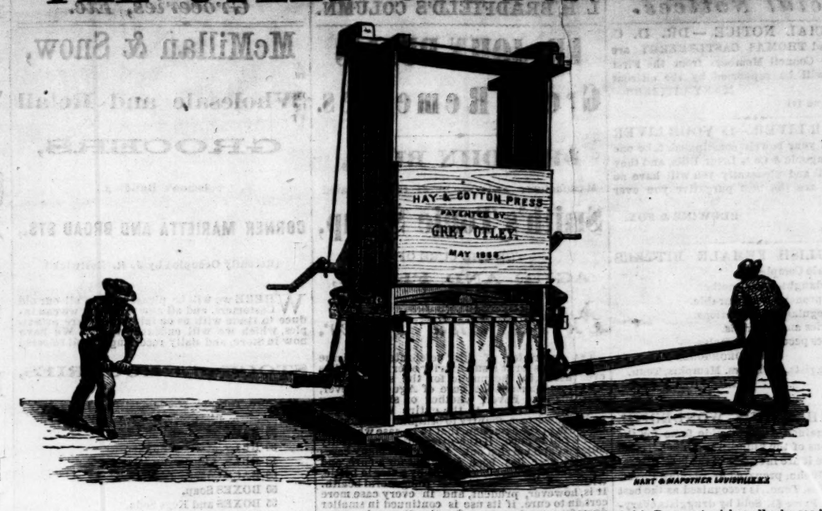
"THE UTLEY COTTON PRESS."



A new invention of power whereby all friction is overcome. The simplicity, economy and durability of this Press astonishes all who see it, and the more so, that a power so simple should so long have been unappropriated. The strain is wholly upon two (2) Iron Bars 1¼ inches square, operating on these bars as if two men were pulling at each end in contrary direction, which will sustain a strain of 190,000 pounds each. With this Press two men can do all the packing or pressing of a 500 pound bale inside of eight minutes, and if need be, one man can operate, only requiring more time. This Press will not occupy more space than a Piano, and can be placed under the Gin and receive the Cotton direct from the Gin, thus doing away with Lint Rooms, and can be readily taken down and transported as it is simple and light. We can supply these Presses cheaper than any yet offered. Will send circulars to any desiring, and would advise all wanting Presses to withhold buying until they examine this. We will, at an early day, have one on exhibition in Atlanta, when it can be seen.

Press complete $175; Irons complete $125.

These presses are now being manufactured in Atlanta, Columbus, Augusta and Macon, and all important points throughout the State, where its workings can be seen. All are assured that as between this Press and any other, there is no argument as to its merits over all others. With the Irons any ordinary workman can put up the Press. ☞ County Rights, Presses, or Irons for sale by

R. P. GLENN, Agent,
At Glenn, Wright & Carr's Warehouse, Atlanta, Ga.

R. P. GLENN, ESQ.—Dear Sir: I am so much pleased with the style, make and operation of the Utley Cotton Press, that I have concluded to order one of them from you for my plantation on the Mississippi River.

I do this, notwithstanding I have on my place a large and superior 10 inch Iron Screw Press, which cost upwards of $300 before the war. Believing that the saving of time and space, to say nothing of its superior baling qualities, and by reason of its great power, will more than repay its cost over the one now in use. I do not hesitate to recommend this Press to all who may require one.

Very Respectfully,
A. J. HOLMES.
Atlanta, Ga.

R. P. GLENN, ESQ.—Dear Sir: Having witnessed the operation of the "Utley Cotton Press," the great power exerted at the cost of so little labor which is performed by hand, and the small amount of room it occupies. I feel satisfied that it is so good, if not the best arrangement for baling cotton that has come under my observation, and do do not hesitate in recommending it to those needing a Press.

Very respectfully, C. H. STRONG, of McDaniel & Strong, Warehouse and Cotton Factors, Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA, GA., August 31, 1869.

R. P. GLENN, Esq: We have examined very carefully the "Utley" Cotton and Hay Press, as manufactured by you, and are perfectly satisfied it is greatly superior to any other Press now in use. It is simple in its construction, can be readily taken down and moved to where your Cotton or Hay may be, and as readily put up again. There is nothing about it that can get out of order, that a farmer can not himself repair. We have seen it tested and know that one strong man can press a bale much smaller than four mules can on any other Press we ever saw. One advantage is, it occupies so little space that it can be placed close to the lint room, or even in it, and save extra hauling of cotton.

Very respectfully,
H. MARSHALL, Fulton County Agricultural Society.
MARK W. JOHNSON, Guano Merchant.

We, the under igned, having witnessed the operations of the Utley Cotton Press, at the Warehouse of Glenn, Wright & Carr, must say that it is the most simple and powerful we have witnessed. With these qualities are combined economy in space and labor. Mr. R. P. Glenn, the Agent, exemplified fully that one man can exert more force in this Press than can be done by four mules on any other. We have no hesitancy in recommending this Press to the farmers of Georgia, or in giving it as our opinion that the Utley Press supplies a desideratum long needed.

MR. R. P. GLENN: Jordan arrived, with the Utley Cotton Press, by last evening's train, and put it up to-day. A great many went to see it, and looked at it's performances with astonishment. They try to criticise it, but can't pick a flaw in it. They see its great power—yet nothing is strained. Its great simplicity astonishes. All who have bought Screws regret it, and I think many will throw them away and buy the Utley Press. I will at once close contracts for wood works. So send on Irons early as possible.

Respectfully
R. B. GUNBY.

ROME GA., September 8, 1869.

MR. R. P. GLENN: Yours of the 5th received. I am more and more pleased with the Utley Press. As I wrote you, my first bale of rags weighed 900 lbs. The next days (Friday and Saturday,) with two men, I packed 16 bales weighing 700 lbs. Now, I would not, for any consideration, exchange this Press for any other—indeed, I could not get along without it. All who see it are delighted with it. I am now packing my fifth cotton with it.

J. J. COHEN.

GRIFFIN, GA., September 15, 1869.

MR. R. P. GLENN: Mr. Rus P. Johnson delivered us the Utley Press yesterday, when we at once put it up in our warehouse, and packed one bale weighing 478 lbs. This morning we packed another bale weighing 545 lbs. each, with only two men—one good man could have done it by himself. Many planters were to see it: all were delighted with it; and two of our largest (Mr. Manly and Mr. Prichard) say they will sell one an Alexander Press and other a most improved Screw, for $50, being one-third of their cost—and buy the Utley Press. This, sir, is the Press for the planter—it is so convenient, powerful and simple, and is so easily taken down and put up.

We cheerfully subscribe to the above.

CORN!

PROLIFIC CORN!

I have a species of Corn which I obtained from a man in Virginia some two years ago. This man and his Corn have been denounced as humbugs. I am not able to say whether the seed I obtained is the "Egyptain Corn" or not, but I do know from having grown it twice, that it is by far the most valuable species of Corn ever planted in this country. I am well satisfied that two crops of this Corn can be produced in the same year in this climate, and I know that on the same land, with the same seasons and culture, it will yield three times as much as any other kind of corn of which I have any knowledge. I have planted it for two years, and have realized large crops, literally without rain. In this exceedingly dry year, if all the farmers of Bartow County had planted this corn, we would have been worth a million of dollars more than we are, and the people would have rejoiced in abundance of bread. I have some of this Corn for sale, and will dispose of it to those who wish to purchase at $6 a peck, delivered to the Railroad Agent at Kingston, Ga.

This Corn can be grown and gathered in this climate by the 15th of August, which gives far more ample time to prepare for and sow wheat, or other small grain on the same land. All orders to receive attention must be accompanied with the money, prepaid. I do not wish to sell less than one peck to any one order. Address me at Kingston, Ga.

J. C. ROPER,
Sept. 28, 1869. Kingston, Ga.

We the undersigned citizens of Bartow county, do certify, that we visited the plantation of J. C. Roper about the 1st of August, 1869, and examined his field planted in the kind of Corn mentioned and described in his foregoing statement, and said field looked fresh and luxuriant, whilst the fields around and adjacent, seemed literally burned up with the drought. We are satisfied that Capt. Roper's statement about the Corn is true, and the undersigned, Lewis Tumlin, has already secured from him, seed to plant a large part of his crop the coming year. We counted twenty-three ears of corn produced from three grains this dry year. In our judgment, it is by far the most valuable Corn ever introduced into this country.

L. TUMLIN,
Cartersville, Ga.
MARK A. HARDIN,
Sept. 28, 1869. Kingston, Ga.

Capt. J. C. Roper, of Kingston, Ga., gave me a few ears of Corn, which I planted on a piece of gray upland. The land was very well prepared, and pretty well matured, and the Corn planted the 7th day of April, 1869. I know, that from the time the Corn was waist high, until it was well glazed in the grain, there never was a "season" of rain upon it, and yet was green and fresh until maturity, and did not seem to suffer from drought. The yield was extraordinary and the Corn attracted the attention of almost every passer by. I am no farmer, and had of course but a small plat of ground planted in this Corn, but if my judgment is worth anything, I can say, that if I had planted this Corn altogether, I would have made, in this dry year, three or four times as much Corn as I did.
